| Overview                     | The introduction of National Vocational Qualifications – practical qualifications which recognise the ability of a person to perform tasks undertaken at work – has led to a need for employers not only to train their staff to the minimum acceptable standard of NVQ level 2, but also to train their own Work Based Assessors able to guide, supervise and assess the performance of employees within the establishment to ensure that the required standard is met. A well trained Work Based Assessor is the key to successful implementation of the occupational standards. We can help by ensuring that those carrying out this vital role are well equipped for it. The standard delivery programme offered assumes some previous knowledge of NVQs. |
| Course Programme             | The Assessor Award comprises of two units taken from the standards set by the Training and Development Lead Body – the organisation that represents the training industry: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Unit A1 covers assessment of diverse evidence such as candidates reports, prior achievements etc.</li> <li>▪ Unit A2 covers assessment of candidate performance through observation and questioning</li> </ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
